MARCONI COMMUNICATIONS GMBH et al.

1. The applicant is hereby notified that this International Preliminary Examining Authority transmits herewith the international preliminary report on patentability and its annexes, if any, established on the international application.
2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.
3. Where required by any of the elected Offices, the International Bureau will prepare an English translation of the report (but not of any annexes) and will transmit such translation to those Offices.

4. REMINDER

The applicant must enter the national phase before each elected Office by performing certain acts (filing translations and paying national fees) within 30 months from the priority date (or later in some Offices) (Article 39(1)) (see also the reminder sent by the International Bureau with Form PCT/IB/301).

Where a translation of the international application must be furnished to an elected Office, that translation must contain a translation of any annexes to the international preliminary report on patentability. It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

(SEPARATE SHEET)

Re Item VReasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following document :

D1: US-A-4 242 157 (GEHLE RICHARD W) 30 December 1980 (1980-12-30)

1. Document D1 discloses (col. 5, l. 8 - col. 6, l. 3; Fig. 1) a circuit assembly comprising a circuit board, a circuit component connected to the circuit board by wire bonding, and a base plate on which the circuit board is fixed, wherein a gap between the base plate and the circuit board is filled with a filling body of a material hardened in the gap.

Thus the subject matter of claim 1 lacks novelty (Article 33(2) PCT).

2. Dependant device claims 2 - 9 do not appear to contain any technical features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and/or inventive step.

3. Document D1 further discloses a method of manufacturing a circuit assembly, comprising the steps of:

- a) fixing a circuit board and a circuit component on a base plate, and
- b) applying a bonding wire between the circuit component and a bond pad of the circuit board.

The subject matter of independent claim 10 differs from this known method at least in that it comprises, between steps (a) and (b) the step of introducing a hardenable material into a gap between the circuit board and the base plate and hardening the material in the gap.

According to document D1, the hardenable material is applied to the base plate before fixing the circuit board, i.e. before step (a), and is hardened after applying the bonding wire, i.e. after step (b).

None of the other cited documents discloses or suggests the solution proposed in claim 10.

In view of the available prior art, the subject matter of claim 10 appears, therefore, to involve an inventive step.

4. Claims 11 -14 are dependent on claim 10 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and inventive step.
